

The Banks Reference to Roger Terrill, of Wapping & Copthall, 1621

This reference (see p. 2) was in a set of five oblong folio scrapbooks, labeled “Genealogical Notes,” compiled from material written by Dr. Charles Edward Banks (1851-1931). These scrapbooks comprise part of “the Banks manuscript material” held at the Library of Congress in Washington, DC. It’s possible that the scrapbooks were filled after the death of Dr. Banks. Pages from Dr. Banks’s notes, headed by a family surname and containing entries (which do not all necessarily refer to the same person), had been trimmed and glued into the scrapbook.

The significant entry for us is the first: Roger Terrill, Wapping and Copthall, from P.R.O. Subsidy 142/279, Co. Middlesex, 18 Jae. I. Much of the material after this entry contains errors. The last entry, for a Roger Terrell who married Helen Layton, does not refer to “our” Roger Terrill.

The 18th year of the reign of King James I was 1621. The source of the record is a Middlesex ships tax subsidy roll (number 142/279) which Dr. Banks transcribed in the Public Record Office in London during his five years there in the 1920’s.

In this document you will find a photocopy of the Banks reference (on p. 2), followed by copies of eight pages of documentation on the Banks manuscript collection contained in a folder at the Rare Book Reading Room in the Library of Congress. The last page contains the LOC catalog record for the microformed Banks collection.

Dr. Charles E. Banks (1854-1931) spent five years in England in the 1920's transcribing subsidy rolls of various English counties, marriage records, etc., etc., much of which was included in his "Topographical dictionary of English emigrants to New England, 1620-1650."

From Miss Lucy Hill Starr, of Seattle, Wash., we purchased a collection of Japanese books forming part of the private library of her brother, the late Dr. Frederick Starr, the distinguished American anthropologist and ethnologist. Because of Dr. Starr's special interest in these two fields it naturally follows that this collection of 2,706 items is mainly anthropological and ethnological in nature, with Japanese folklore, legends, myths, and art forming some of the more important groups. Possibly the most significant portion of the collection is a group of over two hundred books and manuscripts relating to the Ainu race. Among individual items of special interest are the following:

Ko in pu. [Collection of old seals.] 6 v. This work reproduces over 600 seals used at various periods by famous men and scholars of Japan and will be a useful reference tool in identifying seals. The compiler's name is not given nor the imprint date, but there is every indication that it was printed in the early part of the nineteenth century.

Kummo yōgen koji. [Famous sayings from the classics expounded for moral instruction.] 4 v. This is a curious medley of clever sayings, fables, and myths compiled for the education of the common people by Issui Miyagawa, a Confucian scholar of Edo, and printed in Edo in 1694.

Wakan san-sai e-zu. [An illustrated encyclopaedia of three spheres—heaven, earth and man.] Printed in Edo in 1703, probably by the Government Press. 105 v.

From Mrs. Anita V. Nicholls, committee of the estate of Mrs. Bessie B. Croffut, we purchased 146 volumes which once formed part of the private library of Gen. Ethan Allen Hitchcock. These were seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth century works in the fields of freemasonry, mysticism, philosophy, and religion, including the following titles:

A discourse of the felicitie of man: or his summum bonum. Written by Sir Richard Barchley, knight... London, Printed for William Ponsoby, 1598.

Plus ultra: or, The progress and advancement of knowledge since the days of Aristotle... by Jos. Glanvill. London, Printed for James Collins, 1663.

The works of Jacob Behmen, the Teutonic philosopher... to which is prefixed the life of the author. With figures, illustrating his principles, left by the Reverend William Law... London, Printed for M. Richardson, 1763-81. 4 v. [Imprint varies: Vol. 2, Printed for J. Richardson, 1763; Vol. 3-4, Printed for G. Robinson, 1772-81.]

From the estate of the late Dr. Charles Edward Banks (1851-1931) we have purchased 44 titles (in 56 bound volumes) of his unpublished genealogical and historical records, chiefly relating to

American families, the result of research work extending over many years. The collection includes a few genealogies of individual families, transcripts of subsidy rolls of various English counties, marriage records, etc. Undoubtedly the most important individual item is the "Topographical dictionary of English emigrants to New England, 1620-1650."

For 40 years Dr. Banks was an officer in the United States Public Health Service, of which he was Assistant Surgeon General at the time of his retirement, about 10 years before his death. The following quotation is from an obituary notice that appeared in the Boston Evening Transcript:

In addition to his distinguished service in his profession . . . [he] found time to make contributions to the cause of genealogy and local history that are of especial value. As far back as 1884 he was writing in well-documented fashion on topics relating to the early history of Maine, and his zeal for research was unflagging to the end. To his researches he brought a trained and scholarly mind, as well as a fund of sound common sense, and his keen understanding of men and events made him an unusually skillful interpreter of the trends of human life and provincial government in the days of colonization . . .

Following his retirement from governmental duties he carried out a long cherished plan of visiting England to engage in researches into the ancestry and homes of the early settlers of New England, spending nearly five years in the task.

Dr. Banks was a founder of the Anglo-American Records Foundation, Inc., with offices in New York. Among his published works are the English Ancestry and Homes of the Pilgrim Fathers; the History of Martha's Vineyard, Dukes County, Massachusetts; History of York, Maine; the Planters of the Commonwealth; and the Winthrop Fleet of 1630.
